

Premium Chrome Rigger™ LR158R

Premium Chrome Rigger™ LR158R from Polyco is a durable chrome leather rigger glove offering an excellent level of protection. Made from selected chrome leather, the LR158R attains maximum EN388 scores for abrasion and tear resistance. Covering the fingertips, forefinger, thumb and knuckle area, the leather extends over the rubberised cuff providing a vein patch and reinforcing protection to the wrist. The LR158R is machine press cut to maintain consistent quality and size, and double stitched at the seams for extra strength. A fleece lining has been sewn onto the inside of the palm adding a level of comfort that is so often missing from traditional rigger gloves. Also available on header card for display purposes and allowing for lower order quantities.
